

We Gotta Start Loving

by Lisa Williams
Makeisha Williams' Mom

Some people got money, they make Sunday donations just to keep up their names.
But if they ain't got loving, they aint nothing to give.
But if they got loving, they know how to live.

Some people got brothers, and they treat them unkind;
They got perfect vision; still they walk around blind,
A man without loving ain't got nothing at all,
A man without loving got a long way to fall.

We got to start loving before its too late,
if we take more time loving there would be no hate.
Make it right for the children, they can show us the way.
They don't care about the heart of man, or the money in his hand.
Just a smile will see them through the day.
But if we got loving, we begin to shake hands with our neighbors, and call them our friends.
Lets stop taking; just learn to give.
When we start loving, that's when we start to live.